A RIVAL TO NIAGARA FALLS.

Snake River is the south fork of the Columbia, having the alternate name of Lewis River. The valley of the Snake lies along an almost direct line from the South Pass of the Rocky Mountains, and in early days it furnished the most practicable route overland to the Pacific. In its descent over the elevated plains of Idaho, about 400 miles from whence it takes its rise in the Rocky Mountains, Snake River forms the great Shoshone Falls. The river here runs through a narrow, rocky gorge, which widens and terminates abruptly in precipitate cliffs, the summit of which is about one hundred feet above the level of the rapids, and so steep that the traveller can only descend at one point—an old Indian trail, its numerous windings making it about a mile in length. Following this trail slowly and carefully, the tourist will in due time find himself standing upon the bank of the river on a level with the rapids, and overlooking the falls. The width of the river at this point has been variously estimated—we thought it at least two hundred yards. The rapids here form a series of cascades, ranging from thirty to sixty feet each in height, and just below them the river, in an unbroken mass, leaps two hundred and ten feet into the bottomless pit below. The course of the river at this point is almost due east and west; the contour of the falls is that of an irregular horse shoe, and their width, following the course of the water, is at least four hundred yards. Although the river is not quite as wide at this point as the Niagara River, the falls are higher and quite as beautiful.

The most complete view of the falls, including the river above and below the rapids, cliffs, and surrounding scenery, is obtained from Lookout Point—a narrow cape of rocks projecting from the main bluff about three hundred yards lower down on the river than the fall, so narrow that two persons cannot walk abreast. Standing upon this point, we will endeavor to name the prominent places of interest. The first object which attracts our attention is Eagle Rock, a perpendicular pillar of rock, about 100 feet in height, rising from the main cataract. On the topmost peak of this rock an American eagle has built his eyrie, a fitting home for our national bird—long may he live to occupy his unique and romantic abode! Just above, and about the centre of the cataract, is Ballard Island, a small rocky island covered with cedar and juniper trees. Several smaller islands, to the right and left of the large one, or Ballard Island, add to the beauty and picturesqueness of the scene. The Two Sentinels—two huge rocky pillars—are one on the North, the other on the South side, overlooking the falls and reminding one of grim sentinels guarding their object. Lower down the river, and from a higher standpoint, one can observe a fine panoramic view of the whole—the falls, the foaming rapids, Eagle Rock, the Two Sentinels, the huge pillars of perpetual spray rising from the bottom and near the centre of the cataract, but extending as it rises to either side, and made beautiful by the many colored rainbows which shed a halo of glory upon the whole scene.

Still lower down the river is Prospect Gulch. Several gentlemen of the party, actuated by the spirit of adventure, determined to attempt, through the gulch, to reach the river below the falls. They lowered themselves fifty feet on the rope down the perpendicular sides of a rocky cliff. Reaching firm ground, they managed, with but little difficulty, to scramble down about five hundred feet to the banks of the river. Arriving there they found that their troubles had just begun; they were six hundred yards from the falls, to reach which their path lay around and over some huge boulders of slippery rock, winding along the foot of the steep banks, and then through the foaming and boiling waters, the heavy swells of which reminded them strikingly of the breakers from the seashore. Finally they reached a point about thirty feet from the falls. Their journey here came to an abrupt termination by the shelving of the rocks into deep water. The wind struck this point with such violence that they feared to trust themselves in an erect posture. On their knees, they held with their hands to the overhanging brush to prevent being blown into the river. We think that one cannot fully comprehend the immensity of the sheet of water and the sublimity of the scene, until he can gaze upward as we did. This point is the Cave of the Winds. The Shoshone Falls, as a whole, will compare favorably with Niagara. Those of our party who have seen both places pronounce the former superior in many respects. In beauty and wildness of scenery, the Shoshone cannot be surpassed. Niagara excels in magnitude only.

MARRIAGE AND THE DEATH-RATE.

It is a curious and instructive fact that out of every 100,000 married persons (including widowers) at the age of 20, 626 die before attaining the age of 25, while out of a similar number of persons unmarried, at the same age, no less than 1,231 die before attaining the age of 25. The following table, founded on the vital statistics of Scotland, shows the comparative death-rate of married and unmarried males from 20 to 85:

Ages.	Husbands and Widowers.	Unmarried.
20 to 25	6.26	12.31
25 to 30	8 23	14.94
30 to 35	8 65	15 94
35 to 40	11.67	16.02
40 to 45	14.07	18 35
45 to 50	17.04	21.18
50 to 55	19 54	26.34
55 to 60	26.14	28.54
60 to 65	35 68	44 54
65 to 70	52 93	60.21
70 to 75	81 56	102.71
75 to 80	117 85	143 94
80 to 85	173 88	193.40

Dr. Stark, the Registrar General of Scotland, infers, from these figures, that "bachelorhood is more destructive to life than the most unwholesome trades, or than residence in an unwholesome house or district, where there never has been the most distant attempt at sanitary improvement of any kind." We do not question the opinion that matrimony may in a thousand ways exercise a healthful influence on the human race, by ennobling its habits and enforcing sobriety, &c., but we think Dr. Stark exceeds the legitimate conclusion consequent on the premises. It must be remembered that married men are generally of a more robust and healthy Constitution than bachelors, who frequently are deterred by ill health from undertaking the support of families. This important element in the calculation has been forgotten by Dr. Stark and reasoners of his class.

(From Hours at Home.)

DEAD LETTERS.

Of all the official work done at Washington, none is regarded with more interest by the casual visitor than the Dead Letter Office. Here sit some fifteen or twenty gentlemen—for it is a fact disgraceful to humanity that females cannot be employed, so many obscene letters poison the mails—continually engaged in opening the four or five millions of letters that annually find their way there. More than 15,000 letters are daily emptied on their desks, asking to be opened. When the letter is found to have valuable contents, those contents are indorsed upon it, and the letter returned to the envelope. A record is made of all such letters, and they are at once returned to their writers, without return postage.—So perfect are the arrangements that it is hardly possible that a valuable dead letter, which has once reached the office, should fail of re visiting the writer, if it is in the power of the department to discover him. During the past year 35,000 letters, enclosing $142,234, were received in this office, and nearly 29,000 of them, containing $130,620, were restored to their owners. But besides these money letters, there were 21,000 dead letters, containing bills of exchange, and other valuable matter, appraised at $5,000,000; over 49,000 containing photographs, jewelry, &c.; and 97,000 containing stamps and articles of small value; nearly all of them were returned to the original writers, and the reason why any of these letters fail of being returned is not the fault of the department, but of the writers, who either send an unsigned letter, or who will subscribe herself "your loving Susie," or your "affectionate Adie;" and as the Government knows no first names, all such letters are consigned to the chopping-box, and then to the paper mill, to re-appear as white paper.

Since writing thus far, I have once more visited the Dead Letter Office, a visit that always gives pleasure and gratifies curiosity. Here I saw clerks taking about $300 a day out of the letters so profusely scattered over their desks, and among the various articles recently taken out of their envelopes, I noticed the following: Shippers, valentines, a duck's head, thermometers, false teeth, pistols, mittens, fern leaves, false hair, laces, paper collars, spectacles, horns, pipes, watch-cases, hoops, albums, dolls (one of them two feet high, it must have required a monster envelope,) butterflies, mats, medicines, silver goblets, of full size, earrings, butter-knives, spoons, gold and silver watches, (very little gold and silver about them, however,) shells, purses, soap, sugar, tea, coffee, bows and arrows, books, pictures, a box of cigars, a bottle of Jamaica ginger, a squirrel's tail, prisms, combs, boxes, &c.

WHAT IS NEEDED?

The political condition and prospects of the South have had much to do with the depression of the spirits of the people and the prevention of business and enterprise. The incertitude and anxiety of the people, as to the future, most seriously impeded labor and enterprise and greatly interfered with production. But the dreams of the Radicals, of a great change in these respects, after the election of Grant and Colfax, cannot be realized. If any good can be realized from the continuance of the Radical power and policy in the country, we are to obtain that we cannot see it. The hope of the country lies in a change of policy. This seems to be generally expected from the practical views of Gen. Grant and his declaration, "Let us have peace." None will rejoice more than ourselves at such a result. The short time he was controlling the War Department, much was said of his reforms and the reduction of its expenses, but the country has not felt it. Were he alone responsible for the management of the government, he might make a very great reduction of its expenditures, for there is certainly ample room to make them, but the difficulty of reducing the grand army of office-holders, amounting to 60,000, most of whom will claim to have voted for Gen. Grant, will be no easy task.

The immense cost of administering the National, State and municipal governments of the country is an incubus which must be remedied or curtailed, before the people, either North or South, can possibly recover their wonted prosperity. In the South, this cost is at present intolerable, yet, under the "reconstructed governments," it will be vastly increased, until the burden becomes crushing.

The real and great source of discontent and anxiety in the South is not only the unfriendly political course of the party in power, but its continuance, when, under the grinding effects of their poverty, it cut off all hope of early recuperation. Money has really been the great need of the South ern people in their troubles. If this could have been supplied by the small resources left them by the war, they could have borne with greater fortitude, and less resistance, the violent hostility of the party in power. But the universal scarcity of money among the people, added to their political condition, has really been the chief cause of their discontent. Could they have seen that the policy of the Radical party would, if carried out, promise any relief from pecuniary pressure; could they have seen a gleam of hope in the distance for pecuniary relief, by bearing without complaint their political disabilities and troubles, they would have had the fortitude and the courage to have borne them quietly; but the struggle for bread and for life has been so intense and perplexing, as to render them despondent and hopeless of relief from any scheme which might be devised by their political opponents.

Money, cheap money, is perhaps the only elixir or curative of our troubles, in any short period. How can this be obtained? We confess we see no escape, except from the adoption of the most rigid economy in our expenditures, both in household and business matters, as well as in the expenditures of the State, and hard work. We know that human nature is indolent and loves its ease. None but those inured to hard work can seek it, even as a dernier resort with readiness, but it must be done. All classes and conditions, that remain in the South, can promise themselves no hey-day, no certain relief from punching poverty, but by economy and hard work. It is not only the only road to prosperity, but the only cure to the demoralization of the times—the only road to safety and to peace.

The Atlanta Constitution says that Ex-Gov. Brown, being at Calhoun on the day of the election, voted there, and advised others to vote away from home, in violation of the law which requires that a voter shall be a resident of the county wherein he offers to vote. This is a bad example to be set by the Chief Justice of the State.

The example, bad as it is, is no worse than that set by officers of the United States Army, on duty in the South, who voted in the States to which they were temporarily assigned, and from which they were liable to be transferred at any moment.

A NORTHERN cotemporary wonders how Warmoth, of Louisiana, and Bullock, of Georgia, feel, in view of the recent election results in those two States. We wonder how Laflin and Rich feel, in view of the late result in the good old county of Pitt, and how Cook likes the vote of Johnston. And, then, there's Brogden, in Wayne.—Wonder if he don't feel like the little end of nothing, whittled down to a very fine point!

THE RADICAL newspapers keep right on bawling "Ku Klux," "copperhead," "traitor," "rebel," &c., precisely as they did before the election. Anybody who supposed that they would do otherwise is not familiar with the breed. A genuine radical has as little magnanimity, in the hour of victory, as a wild beast.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Now that the elections are over, and the offices are all filled, it is to be hoped that the Legislature, when it assembles on Monday next, will proceed promptly to the discharge of the legitimate business that lies before it, with a view to as speedy an adjournment as possible. The depleted condition of the Treasury, and the already almost intolerable burdens of the people, will not bear a protracted session, with the present extravagant per diem of the members and officials. What is required, under the new Code Ratio, to be done, may easily be accomplished in a few weeks, if the two Houses bend themselves to the work and do not fritter time away in useless and unprofitable schemes of party interest, to say nothing of party spite. Should they do this, or attempt to add to the already heavy indebtedness of the people, the result of the late election admonishes them that their tenure on power in North Carolina is most precarious and insecure, and that the people will hold them to a stern accountability.

We premise, in advance, so far as we are concerned, not to raise any factious opposition to what the Legislature may do in the line of its legitimate duty, so long as it is ensured and fit and by a proper spirit, and does not transgress its province.

THE CURRENCY.—Mr. SUMNER remarked, in a late speech in Boston, that the election of Grant and Colfax would enable the country to return to specie payments, by the 1st of July, 1869. Prices will never be stable, nor can there be any fixed, certain value to property, until this is done, and yet the present condition of the currency does not strike us favorably for as early a return to specie payments as Sumner suggests. Retrenchment, large retrenchment, in the expenses of the government, alone, can arrest the necessity for an inflated currency.

Prior to the war, the circulation of the Banks in the Union amounted to only $202,000,000, against $87,600,000 in specie in their vaults. This was in January, 1861. In 1864-5, the greenback currency, authorized by law, was about $1,200,000,000, though at no time did the circulation reach that amount. At present, the paper currency of the country reaches over $700,000,000, against, perhaps, $250,000,000 of coin, in the United States Treasury and the banks. We have no means of ascertaining certainly the amount of coin, but we put down $250,000,000 as the approximate sum.—With this showing, it strikes us that the paper currency of the country cannot be reduced to a specie value rapidly enough to resort to specie payments, within that period, without producing the most deleterious effects upon trade and the assumed value of property.

RECEIVING ARMS.—We learn that "Gov." Holden is receiving, and having stored in the old Arsenal here, a number of muskets, for the purpose of arming his militia. We do not know where they came from. They are certainly not furnished by the Government. We presume that they are either supplied by Northern parties, just as rifles were sent into "bleeding Kansas," or have been purchased at the public expense.—What are they for? The people of North Carolina desire nothing more than to be allowed, now, to go peaceably about their ordinary avocations. Gen. Miles has recently testified to the eminent good order which has prevailed, and still prevails, throughout the State. And yet the "Governor" proposes to stir up strife, and excite the passions of the people, by an importation of arms to be placed in the hands of negroes and others, whom he, in his vindictive spirit, may esteem to be "trooly loil."

In this connection, we invite attention to the telegraphic announcement of the troubles in Arkansas. Are we to be threatened with a similar terrible condition of affairs in North Carolina? God forbid!

GEN. GRANT'S declension of a public reception at Washington is a good beginning, and he is to be commended for it. A reception of the kind proposed would be merely an excuse for the obtrusion and self-laudation of a host of office beggars and fellows anxious to serve their personal ends under the wing of the incoming administration. In declining to accept their advances Gen. Grant administered a merited rebuff and rebuke to this class, and the people will thank him for it, however much the politicians may find fault.

THE DEMOCRATIC majority in Louisiana will exceed 40,000 and may reach 50,000.

GEN. GRANT'S MAJORITY.—Says the New York Sun:

As near as can be ascertained, General Grant's majority over Seymour on the popular vote is about 265,000. This is the largest majority ever obtained over an opponent by any Presidential candidate, with one exception, in 1864, when Mr. Lincoln received 411 281 majority over General McClellan.

But this excludes the Democratic vote in Virginia, Mississippi, Texas and Florida, the one hundred thousand white men disfranchised in Tennessee, the fifty thousand in Missouri, and thousands in other South ern States. General Grant is elected constitutionally, as Mr. Lincoln was eight years since, but with a very decided majority of the people opposed to him. He is a minority President, though none the less entitled to respect on this account, but the fact remains, even counting the tens of thousands of negro votes cast in his favor.—Wash. Express.

Heroic men! The Radicals of Iowa have voted to strike the word white out of their State Constitution; and the Tribune thanks God for their valor. The Tribune thanks God on small provocation. In an aggregate population of 674,913, Iowa by the last census contained exactly 566 colored male Americans of African descent, not enough, if every man of them were a barber, and every barber as clever as Oliver le Dain, to shave one thirtieth part of the male white citizens of Iowa on a bright Sunday morning. But Ohio, with 36,673 colored denizens out of 2,339,511, has just voted that colored persons shall not vote by a majority greater than its whole colored population. We commend to the Tribune a free version of the old Horatian maxim: "Don't call in the gods to heal a flea-bite."—N. Y. World.

ANOTHER DEMOCRATIC FLANK MOVEMENT PROPOSED—GRANT TO RECEIVE THE UNANIMOUS VOTE OF THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE.

The movement in favor of giving Grant the unanimous vote of the Electoral College seems to be assuming a shape that promises results. Several democratic politicians, mostly from the South, have put their heads together and agreed to recommend to the Electors of the States which have given Seymour a majority to cast their votes in favor of Grant for President. They urge this step as a grand stroke of policy for the democrats to adopt at the present juncture. By casting aside party considerations in this instance and giving Grant a unanimous vote for the Presidency, they contend he would be lifted above all petty distinctions of democrat, republican, conservative and radical, and made to feel that he is the President of the whole people and as such free to deal with the issues of the hour in a spirit of enlarged and liberal statesmanship. Acting upon this idea—which, by the way, was thrown out in these despatches some weeks ago—these democratic politicians have prepared a number of letters, addressed to leading men North and South, suggesting the prompt adoption of this plan. The follow is a copy of one of these letters which has been shown to me:—

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8, 1868.

GENERAL.—In my judgment the wisest thing the Democracy could now do would be to throw their entire electoral vote for General Grant, as indicative of the fact that should he pursue a liberal, generous and magnanimous course they will sustain him. It would also have the effect of not leaving him altogether in the hands of the adverse faction, and would doubtless strengthen any purpose he may entertain towards the Conservative sentiment of the country. This vote cannot possibly do Seymour any good, and thrown in the manner suggested would at least produce a conciliatory impression.

Letters similar to this have been sent to Governor Stephenson, of Kentucky; A. H. Stephens, of Georgia; Wade Hampton, General Gordon, General Preston, Robert Tyler, of Alabama, and ex Senator C. C. Clay. These are all Southerners, but I am informed prominent Democratic politicians in the North have also been notified of the movement and urged to go into it promptly. Whether the movement will really amount to anything or not remains to be seen. The same objection is made to the project as was urged against a change of front after the October elections, namely, that to vote for Grant will involve a demoralization, rank and file, of the Democratic party.—The answer that the new movement party make to this objection is that the condition of things is such now as to require extraordinary action. The national risk is imminent, casting a few electoral votes for Seymour is a mere barren compliment, whereas giving the unanimous vote of the Electoral College to Grant is insuring the friendship of the next President for the suffering people of the South.

We publish the foregoing, from the Washington correspondence of the New York Herald, for what it is worth,—which is, we presume, just nothing. After having conducted a great contest on principle, we have no idea that the Democratic party is prepared to surrender principle to an imaginary and cowardly expediency. While we say this, we are in favor not only of making no opposition to the administration of Gen. Grant, but of seeking every just occasion to give it a fair and honest support.

EXTRACT OF A LETTER TO THE CITIZENS OF MACON, GA.

QUINCY, MASS., Oct. 23, 1868.

Gentlemen, your case is not one which admits of lulling strains or intoxicating melodies to soothe your pains or obliterate your memories; and those who seek to lure you always backward to the dread past, or cast a deceptive glamor over your stern future, are not, as I think, doing the best service possible for the South. Your position materially and politically is, to my thinking, to the last degree serious and no holiday orations or deceptive assurances of a premature good feeling can help your hard case. You must try frankly and cheerfully to meet like men the fate you dared like men to invoke. If our people cannot suddenly renew their shattered confidence, or dare not grasp your stretched-out hand, why, take it coldly as a part of your penality, and set yourselves to extort a fresh faith, and compel us, from sheer admiration of your pluck, to grasp your hand unobserved.

You want but little politics, as I take it; but you do need, every man of you, to bend his every energy to build up your waste places, restore your languishing industry, renew your decayed trade, replenish your exhausted capital, educate and elevate the poor, ignorant, and degraded within your borders, and allure all to leave no device untried to reconcile and adjust your people to the new era.

I do not mean by that the era of reconstruction, for I do not believe that such a preposterous and topsy-turvey contrivance can stand. Yet, even for that, I would urge toleration until it peacefully topples over. What I do mean is the era which is coming, and must come, whether you like it or not, when the American people shall become homogeneous, and animated by one spirit, which shall pervade South as well as North, East, and West, alike—the spirit of one progressive and productive, peaceful and free, Christian nationality. All the men who feel as you do at the South should spare no effort to hasten the day when we can once more resume the old touch of the shoulders, and dress up the ranks for the great march.

Do not be troubled by the croakers; the destiny of the people will transcend their gloomy portents. Be steady; be cool; be patient; be silent; be hopeful. Watch the heavens, and work the earth, and you shall see ere long the gray dawn creeping up the Eastern sky.

Your faithful friend,
JOHN QUINCY ADAMS.

"LET US HAVE PEACE."

We find the following in the Cincinnati Commercial, a Conservative Republican journal:

"The voice of the people has been uttered in tones too distinct and emphatic to be mistaken. It is more than a merely partisan call that has demanded the services of General Grant in the highest place of power. Thousands who have heretofore been identified with the Democratic organization have testified their confidence in him as the man who can best restore order, peace, and security, after the distractions of war and the troubles consequent upon an Administration lamentably inadequate to the occasion. Now that the election is over, why may not all the people unite in extending him a cordial support, repressing partisan bitterness and prejudice, and seeking only to aid him in the arduous work to be entrusted to his hands? Surely there could be nothing more fortunate for the country, and nothing which the true patriot should more earnestly desire than a genuine era of good feeling."

MR. ROEBUCK ON AMERICAN AFFAIRS—CURIOUS EXPLANATION.

Mr. Roebuck made an election speech at Sheffield on the 17th ultimo, and in course of it the following questions were put and replies given:

Mr. Wilmot said he wished to put a question of great importance, not only to Sheffield, but to the community at large—He should like to ask Mr. Roebuck if he did not use his utmost endeavors in the American contest to bring about a war between this country and the United States (confusion) in order to promote the slave holders' rebellion. (Cheers.)

Mr. Roebuck—Sir, if you will allow me, I will go through that matter completely.—The American rebellion broke out, and all I did was—and I had the sanction of as large a meeting in Sheffield (cheers) as ever was met together—all I asked was that we should acknowledge the Southern States as sovereign and independent States. ("Hear, hear," and cheers.) Now I will tell you distinctly, I will make a frank breast of it, for you shall not mistake me. My belief is that the American people by and by will be so numerous that they will be all-powerful among mankind.

I have ever found—I beg you to listen and think upon what I say—I have ever found that persons of despotic power—that is, of uncontrolled power—do not use that power as they ought to do. My object was to prevent the United States from having that immense uncontrolled power, and I said: "Here is the opportunity; we can take it with perfect safety." No war would have followed—there the gentleman makes a mistake. "Here is an opportunity to acknowledge these States just as America acknowledged Hungary when she was in rebellion against Austria; we have the sanction of American example; acknowledge the existence of those States." The moment that acknowledgment had come, away would have gone the blockade of the shores of America. There would have been an end to the American civil war, very much, I believe, to the benefit of the several States themselves; and if that had been done I believe that mankind would have received an immense benefit. Gentlemen, if you will permit me I will tell you a story. After that meeting in Paradise Square I went back to London, and in a day or two it was a necessity of the case—for a member of Parliament there is often that necessity—to wait upon the Prime Minister.

I waited upon Lord Palmerston. The moment I got into his room—he was standing writing at his desk as he always did—he turned round and put out his hands, and said, "Roebuck, Roebuck what a devilish good speech you made at Sheffield." (Cheers and laughter.) I said: "My lord I am greatly obliged to you, and flattered for the kind phrase you have used about my speech"—though it was rather a hard one, you know, (laughter)—"I am very much flattered." "Flattered?" he said: "why I am entirely of your opinion, but I dare not officially say so."

Now that struck me, according to the old woman's phrase, all of a heap, that a man in power should say to me openly, and without disguise, that he was entirely of my opinion, and lead the people of England directly the opposite way. That, said I, is modern political mortality. (Laughter.) I did my work with the gay and pleasant old lord, and bowed my way out of his room.

Now, I want to know if that is not a very striking circumstance, and that men should now come forward and say that I did this for the purpose of creating a war to aid the slave holders of America—I, who in my youth had done my utmost to fight the question of black slavery throughout the British dominions, who was as horrified as the gentleman opposite can be at the idea of slavery, who have really wept over the story of Uncle Tom's Cabin—I, who feel, as he feels, all the misery and all the horrors of that situation.

But I had to look further; I had to look at the poor creatures themselves, I had to look at the destinies of mankind, and I thought for the destinies of mankind that we should have taken that opportunity of separating the United States. And nobody feels this more than they who govern the United States now. They are surrounded with difficulties; they cannot heal the wounds which were then made, and I believe, if they dared to speak the truth, they would say they were sorry peace was not made upon the terms that I proposed.—(Loud cheers.)

Mr. Wilmot differed from Mr. Roebuck, as to its being impossible for America to have declared war with England, and asked whether, if he were again returned to Parliament, he would be prepared to pay the Alabama claims.

Mr. Roebuck—Certainly not without inquiry, but if upon inquiry it shall be found that England is really bound, and ought to pay these claims, I shall be prepared to pay them. But I will not pay them unless our claims upon America are paid also.

A MIDDLE GEORGIA NEGRO'S EXPERIENCE.

One William Smith, a Conservative negro residing somewhere in Middle Georgia, concluded, a short time ago, to travel North and tell the people the truth with regard to his race in the South. A part of his experience in Washington is given in a letter to the Macon Telegraph, from which we quote:

"When I got to Washington I was tired out and wanted a dram. So I went into a bar-room, as I would do in Macon, and asked for one. The barkeeper looked at me, raised his eyes, and said, says he, "No niggers are allowed to drink at this bar."—Says I, "I axes your pardon—I am a stranger a travelling about, and I wants a drink mightily, and would you please tell me how I can get one?" Says he, "Thar's a perliceman at the door, and if you give him the money he will buy one for you."

Then I went to the door and pulled off my hat and stated what I wanted. Says he, "give me fifty cents," which I did.—Then says he, "you stand here." Then he went in and soon brought out a little whiskey in a tumber, and I drank it in the street. Then I stopped a while to see if there was any change coming, and he says, says he, "what is you waiting for?" Says I, "a little change, if you please." Says he, "change hell; we don't wait on niggers for nothing up here."

Then I next encountered a gentleman in a high place, holding an office of both trust and honor under the United States Government, and I assure you he talked very plain. Says he, "We Northern people have no use for negroes. We are willing you should be free, and have freed you, but as for your equality notions, they are all stuff and nonsense. Do you reckon I would take you inside my house? Do you reckon you could sit at my table? No, you could not come inside my gate. You negroes must learn to keep your place. The South is the best place for you to live in. If you come North you will starve, for we have no place for you here."

"Things are awaking" in Georgia. The prosperity of certain localities warrants the prediction that Georgia will soon regain her former position as the richest State in the Union and the one freest from debt.

NEW YORK.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
NEW YORK.
Office, No. 69, Liberty Street.

The Original Joint Stock Life Insurance Company in the United States.

The business of this Company is EXCLUSIVELY confined to the insurance of first-class healthy lives.

THE DISTINCTIVE FEATURE of the Stock system of Life Insurance, as opposed to the MUTUAL, is a low rate of premium for a stated sum assured, which is IMMEDIATE, SECURE and CERTAIN; in lieu of a high rate of premium for a promised dividend which is DISTANT, CONTINGENT and UNCERTAIN; this so-called dividend being merely a return of a portion of the excessive and unnecessary premium charged in the first instance.

ILLUSTRATION.

Suppose that an individual aged thirty desires to devote $200 a year for the purpose of effecting an insurance on his life; this amount will immediately secure him in the 'Universal' the sum of $11 731, payable on his decease. This sum, paid to a Company charging the ordinary mutual rates, would secure him the sum of $8 474.

The difference between these sums ($3 257) is exactly the same as an immediate bonus or addition to the policy to be paid by the former office to the holder of the policy in case of the early death of the insured. It is true that if the insured, in an office charging high rates, live long enough, and have his periodical dividends added to his policy, the sum may equal or surpass that above named; but it must not be forgotten that the chance of early death is the very thing the applicant desires to insure against, and consequently the greater the sum immediately secured contingent on this event, the greater the advantage to the policy-holder.

To illustrate the importance to the policy-holder of low premiums in more general terms it may be stated that, by a reduction of twenty-five per cent in the rate of premium, the same amount of money will secure a policy thirty-three and one-third per cent greater; and likewise that a reduction of twenty-five per cent. in the rate of premium is precisely equivalent to an annual cash dividend of thirty three and one-third per cent., payable in advance, or to a dividend of forty-five per cent, payable at the end of five years.

By the Stock plan the full cash effect of the premium is immediately secured to the insured, the Company taking all the risk. By the Mutual plan, the full value in insurance of the premium paid is not secured to the policy-holder, who takes a portion of the risk himself.

Mr. W. has a very complete and neat establishment, attends to his business thoroughly, in all its departments, and will give you a good article and a good bargain. Call on him.

Fruit Trees from the oldest Nursery in the State: W. H. Jones & Co.

"HEARTH AND HOME."—Messrs. Pettingill, Bates & Co., 37 Park Row, N. Y., the well-known Advertising Agents, whose transactions with the Press have always been honorable, purpose publishing, on or before the 1st. of January next, a Weekly Rural and Family paper, bearing the above title. It will be neither partizan nor sectarian, and no labor or expense will be spared to make it worthy of a place in every household. It will be under the general Editorial charge of Donald G. Mitchell, known to the Literary World as "Ik Marvel."

WELL DONE CASWELL.—We are reliably informed that but one white man in the county of Caswell, in the late election, voted the Radical ticket. That one was Stevens, the chicken man, who was himself a candidate for, and elected to, the State Senate. Can any county in the State equal this?

It is said that old Mr. Ingram attributes the result in Anson to an invasion of four or five million of Ku Kluxes, and that Downing is sure that Union would not have gone for the Democrats, if he hadn't been asleep!

COLORED SUFFRAGE.—St. Louis county, Mo., which gave General Grant a majority of 2,698, decided against colored suffrage by a majority of 10,735.

BEAUTIES OF RECONSTRUCTION.—In Arkansas they have martial law, and, in Florida, his "Excellency, the Governor," has been impeached for fraud and embezzlement!

It is calculated that if a human being could make as much noise in proportion to his size as a locust, he could be heard from New York to St. Louis.—Exchange.

One of the "orators" at the Radical rush light procession, in this city, last week, came very near to having the human locust pitch. We don't know who he was, but his bellowing could be distinctly heard over half the City. Looking over the Woman Insulter's report of the speeches, we judge that the case in question was one of sour grapes without a shell.

SOME COW.—We heard of a farmer, the other day, who was complaining to a person about his neighbor's cow destroying his fodder. He said she got in his field the night before, and eat up fifteen dollars' worth of fodder. She was only in the field one night, and putting fodder at one dollar per hundred pounds, the cow eat up fifteen hundred pounds in one night! If she gives milk in proportion to what she eats, she is certainly a valuable cow.—Columbus (Geo.) Enquirer.

That was, undoubtedly, a Radical cow. We have just such an one in this State. It has been in the pasture but a few months, and it has eaten up more fodder than all the cows in years before. There will be very little fodder left, if the cow is not turned out as soon as possible.

INTERNATIONAL COMMERCIAL COMPANY.—This Company, which has been chartered by the Legislature of Virginia, will hold its meeting to organize, on the 18th. inst., at Lynchburg, Va. Subscribers to the International Steamship Company, who cannot attend there in person, are requested to send their proxies.

TENNESSEE.—The Democracy have done gloriously in Tennessee. The Radical majority of last year has been reduced by 25,000. When the condition of affairs in this State is considered, this result entitles Tennessee to the banner. We have made larger Democratic gains in the face of greater obstacles than any State in the Union. In 1867 Brownlow's majority was 52,000, Grant's will not reach 30,000. It is probable, also, that we have gained two Congressmen. Hon. John W. Leftwich in the Memphis district, and the gallant Schenck, who, in a single handed contest, has defeated his Radical opponent in the fourth (Shelbyville) district.—Nashville Union and American, 8th.

It is predicted that among the first acts of Gen. Grant, when he gets into power, will be to pardon Jeff Davis, John C. Breckenridge and other prominent rebels. "The hour of victory is the hour of magnanimity."

STATE MATTERS.

Application will be made to the next General Assembly for the formation of a new county out of portions of Halifax and Martin counties, to be called Roanoke.

Gen. Abbott made five speeches, says the Wilmington Star, in Wilkes county, during the recent canvass. Result: Wilkes gives a Conservative gain of five hundred and eighty nine—about one hundred and eighteen votes for every speech. We thank Gen. Abbott for his able efforts in our behalf.

The result of the election in Rutherford county proves the truth of the statements, made from time to time during the canvass, by the Vindicator, that hundreds were deserting the Union Leagues. That paper, commenting upon the result, says:

"The result has been glorious! Above three hundred of the most respectable white members of the League have washed their hands of it. The Radical majority has been cut down to almost the number of the negro vote! Take away the negro vote (the illegal vote) and Grant would not have an hundred majority in this stronghold of Radicalism—the former dominion of Gen. Logan and Cebera Harris!"

On Friday last a negro named Thomas Ryan was hanged in Williamston, Martin county, N. C., for the brutal murder of a young man by the name of Legget, a clerk at Jamesville. Legget was a clerk in a store, and all his offence was, that he refused to give the negro fiend, Ryan, liquor. The negro was a terror to the county; he confessed that he had killed four men in Craven county, and gave as an excuse for killing Legget that he was drunk. The jury by whom he was tried and convicted was composed of five negroes and seven white men; yet, upon the gallows, the wretch stated that he had not been fairly tried. Legget was a quiet, inoffensive man, and was beloved by everybody with whom he was associated. He served during the war in a North Carolina regiment, and was a good soldier. Ryan, his murderer, has met his doom, and fallen a victim to outraged law and civilization.

Gen. J. C. Abbott and "Judge" Edward Cantwell have formed a law co-partnership in Wilmington:

Abbott "came in with a Federal Brigade,"
Cantwell "went out" with a secesh Cockade!"

A negro man, named Melvin White, voted for Seymour and Blair at the election on the 3rd at Murfreesboro, N. C.—He left the polls and went home and fell dead shortly after. It is generally supposed he was poisoned by some of his political opponents for "betraying his race," as they said. He was buried by his white friends in a splendid silver mounted coffin, six of them carrying his coffin to the grave as a token of respect to the deceased.

[Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.]

Political Letters on the Election of Gen. Grant—Conservative Views of the New Administration—General Grant and the Generalship of the Army.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—The National Intelligencer will contain to morrow an editorial letter from New York, in which the writer berates the selfish politicians who controlled the Fourth of July Convention, and, as the author of the letter alleges, caused the defeat of the democratic party by the refusal to nominate a candidate who, whilst he hated the rebellion and all connected with it, nevertheless felt that the old policy of Lincoln and the inspirations of President Johnson were nearer right than the startling innovations of Congress. He says the effect of the election in New York is to "give us peace," at all events for the present. The conservative cause must find its representative in Gen. Grant, who stands clearly forth as the advocate of Union and peace, under the Constitution of the United States, and he concludes thus:

"I do not believe that Congress will dare to withhold from Gen. Grant the rightful power of the Presidential office. I do not believe that ultra radicalism will dare to seek to carry him into extreme measures not demanded by some clearly proved case of necessity. I do not believe that General Grant has a bitter heart against the South, but, on the contrary, he longs to restore order and peace there, without respect to party. I do not believe that General Grant will forget the just rights of the minority, or that he will rest his administration on bayonets. He has a difficult work before him, and all charity and forbearance will go with him while he seeks to govern the country as firmly and justly as he may under the many complications which have arisen since President Johnson encountered the distrust and enmity of Congress."

The foregoing is a specimen of the numerous opinions of prominent conservative Republicans that have come here within the past two or three days in letters to office als in the government departments. Democrats generally express the determination to give the new administration their unqualified support and confidence until it shall be shown (and it is believed it never will be) that Grant adopts the advice of such extremists as Sumner, Butler, Wade, and Radicals of such ilk. So long as his conduct shall be within the principles and line of policy indicated in the above quoted letter, written by a Republican, so long will he find the conservative Democrats his most earnest friends.

There is some speculation as to Gen. Grant's resignation as General-in-Chief of the armies. Nothing definite is known about it, though the general impression is that he will shortly send in his letter of resignation, to take effect on the 4th of March. DATA.

The New York Independent says that Queen Victoria has become unpopular with her people, and that though the scandals about her, circulated in caricatures and low papers, are untrue, her "peculiarities" and seclusion, &c., have weaned from her the public affection. Nevertheless, it affirms that nobody in Great Britain wishes her to abdicate, or to retire from the Government, because but few, if any, have any confidence in the Prince of Wales, who is represented to be anything but a proper person to be at the head of affairs, both on account of his moral and mental disqualifications.

GEN. GRANT.—Gen. Grant, an account of whose tour and arrival in this city is given elsewhere, visited Army Headquarters this morning and spent the bulk of the day there. He was visited by a number of personal friends and military officers, among whom were Gen. Schofield, the Secretary of War, and Gen. Hancock. President Johnson yesterday visited the President elect at his residence on I street. The General appears to be in perfect health and spirits.—Wash. Express, 9th.

Wendell Phillips is urging on to extreme measures. He demands an impeachment of President Johnson, the removal of the present United States officers in New Orleans, the reinstatement of Gen. Sheridan in that city, the "revision and amendment" of the reconstruction laws, and the recognition of the right of the colored population to vote and hold office everywhere. And he declares that "it is not within the power of General Grant, if it be his disposition, to materially obstruct the progress of Radical reformation in national politics."

PHILOMATHESIAN HALL,
WAKE FOREST COLLEGE, N. C.,
November 7th., 1868.

WHEREAS. The members of this Society have been called on to witness the sad dispensation of Divine Providence in calling to his long home our highly esteemed brother, Major THOMAS A. MARTIN, of Franklin county, N. C.; Therefore,

Resolved, That while we recognize, in this mournful event, the will of an All-wise Ruler, and bow with reverence to his afflicting hand, we feel that, in the removal of this excellent brother, we have suffered a severe loss, and we deeply lament his early fall.

Resolved, That, by the death of Maj. Martin, not only has this Society lost one of its noblest members, but a stricken family has been bereft of a dutiful son and affectionate brother, the country has been deprived of a patriot, society of an ornament, and the Church of an exemplary Christian.

Resolved, That in token of our respect for the deceased, we will wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That we tender our condolence and sympathy to the sorrowing family in their irreparable loss.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, and, also, to the Editors of the Biblical Recorder and Raleigh Sentinel for publication.

Our Midnight Dispatches.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11, P. M.

It is stated that General Grant has ordered Gen Badeau to burn letters applying for office.

General Schofield visited General Grant to-day.

General Canby leaves in the morning.

The reported gathering of armed negroes is in Tipton County, Tennessee, instead of Arkansas.

Seward says that the recent statements of the London Times, regarding the Alabama claims, are unreliable and entirely incorrect. The same may be said of the statements of the situation, originating in this country.

The State Department has no information regarding the filibustering movements on Cuba.

The Herald publishes seven columns of correspondence between Jno. H. Gilmer and the Revenue officials, regarding whiskey frauds. Gilmer complains that high officials thwarted him in exposing and punishing frauds. A letter from Gilmer to McCulloch, dated Nov. 4th, closes:

"Without giving other reasons, sir, I respectfully invoke your official condemnation of the act, and all parties connected with it. The badges of fraud cluster around every circumstance and disclose a guilty motive and concurrent crime in every move made by the parties, and they involve the Commissioner, the Collector and the Assessor. Let the law be enforced. It stands full armed for its vindication, and I have a right to invoke its administrative and penal enforcement, though the Commissioner has used every appliance to destroy my influence and remove the authorized capacity to investigate and report on such matters.

Though not an officer of the Government, I feel, as an American citizen, authorized to expose and hold up to official, executive and popular condemnation, such a flagrant and palpable violation of official duties."

FROM CHARLESTON—RESULT OF THE MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 11, P. M.

The result of the Municipal election was announced, this afternoon, amid great excitement. Nearly ten thousand votes were cast, and Pillsbury, (Republican) was elected over Leserne, citizen's candidate, by a majority of 17. The citizen's party talk of contesting the election.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 11, P. M.

This evening's Times has an article, giving the rumors and reports current as to the details of the Cuban expedition, spoken of in yesterday's World. It says:

"An organization in this city and country has been in correspondence with Cuban insurrectionary leaders."

It says the statement that three thousand men will leave the city, in 15 days, will probably turn out to be true; that a number of parties engaged in this movement have already left this city, with passports for Cuba; and that, on Tuesday evening, two meetings will be held in this city by those engaged.

AFFAIRS IN CUBA.

HAVANA, Nov. 10, 1868.

The Provisional Government of Spain has conferred on Count Ballmasedo full power to pardon all engaged in present insurrections, except the leaders.

The District Governors of the Island have been changed.

The Rebels are in possession of Remate, Mata, and some other towns in the jurisdiction of Puerto. Principe Remate is on the Southern slope of the Island, about forty miles inland. Much fighting in the whole neighborhood. The Government admits this in a published communication.

A rebel Commission here claim that they have plenty of money in New York, as well as war material. They also claim for the rebels the rights of belligerents. Several Mexicans are arriving and their movements are watched, as the whole party are suspected of unfriendly designs on Cuba.

DRY GOODS.
NEW GOODS! NEW GOODS!
AT HOME AGAIN!!
WITH A HOUSE RAMMED AND PACKED FULL OF
NEW FALL AND WINTER GOODS, FOR
1868.
COME TO A. CREECH'S!
For Ladies' Goods! For Gentlemen's Goods! For Misses' Goods! For Boys' Goods! Ditto for Children!

MY STOCK IS LARGE AND VERY COMplete. Allow me to say that you see some very strange advertisements. Some say they bought goods before the rise—some after the decline—some just in time—some in luck again—some buy goods cheaper than anybody else—some selling goods at unprecedentedly low prices—some controlling the trade &c., &c., and all such stuff. What a mixy set of individuals!

Now just let ME tell you, that there is more humbug than poetry in all this. Don't every man, woman and child know that it is humbug—large enough to be seen even with one eye shut? So let them talk, puff and blow, but sayr, LOOK OUT! HANDS OFF! and show your good judgment by to buy your goods. I intend to run through this campaign with my motto, to give each and every individual value received for their support!

A fine opportunity for the ladies to exercise their inalienable rights, as well as the gentlemen. Don't stop until you COME TO CREECH'S. You will find me at R. Smith's corner, attending to my business, always ready to give you the worth of your money.

A Most Wonderful and Successful Invention!

NEW METHOD OF WASHING CLOTHES WITHOUT LABOR.

THE AUTOMATIC

CLOTHES WASHER AND BOILER.

Awarded the highest Testimonial wherever exhibited in the United States.

THIS BOILER OPERATES UPON PURELY philosophical principles.

It is self-acting, and dispenses entirely with labor and the wear of clothes.

The hot suds and steam, by the action of forces are driven up through tubes, poured upon the Clothes and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing it perfectly without any rubbing. It has been thoroughly tested and pronounced unequalled as a Clothes Washer by those who have used it.

All fabrics, from the finest laces to the bed-blanket, can be washed perfectly and with ease without the aid of the rubbing-board. For Flannels it is invaluable, as the rubbing, rolling, and pressing process, must necessarily full them, more or less.

It is truly a labor and clothes saving invention. Washing will no longer be a hardship, and washing day no longer a terror and a dread to housewives.

The invention can be used in any boiler, and the low price of the article places it within the reach of every family.

If the directions are strictly followed, success is certain.

The saving in the wear of clothes will very soon pay for the outlay.

It is estimated that 200 to 300 gallons of boiled suds pass through the clothes in thirty minutes; this being the longest time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes.

Having purchased the exclusive interest and control of the Automatic Clothes Washer and Boiler, for North Carolina, we have established a depot in Raleigh, where we are prepared to fill orders or to sell COUNTY RIGHTS. Letters addressed to us at Raleigh, N. C., or Portsmouth, Va., will receive prompt attention.
